Research, Teaching Grants

- First: My teaching philosophy is based on my love for the teaching profession, my deep belief in its importance, and the role of the teacher in preparing the right generation for the future. Based on the sayings of the Messenger, may God bless him and grant him peace, which demonstrate the value and status of knowledge and the teacher in Islam, where he said: "Everything asks forgiveness for the possessor of knowledge, even the fish in the sea." And on the authority of Abu Hurairah, may God be pleased with him, who said that the Messenger of God, may God bless him and grant him peace, said: "When the son of Adam dies, his deeds come to an end except for three: ongoing charity Or beneficial knowledge, or a righteous son who prays for him." Narrated by Muslim
- Second: I firmly believe that teaching is an interactive relationship between the professor and his students, based on a sound understanding of learning outcomes and their achievement. I hope that the Khorfakkan University student will become someone who is praised. To do this, it is necessary to work on preparing the conditions, providing the time, and all the necessary requirements for the process. Education. Synchronizing teaching and learning, using available means and modern technologies, defining educational objectives and achieving their outcomes, and updating methods, techniques, means, and activities.
- The teaching method used should be flexible and adaptable in light of new developments occurring in classrooms.
- Developing students' personalities by achieving cognitive, skill, and various aspects of competence: independence, self-development, and assuming responsibility in all aspects of family, professional, and social life.
- I also learned from my previous experiences that an effective educational process does not depend on the teacher alone - the student is merely a recipient of information - but rather the student must participate in all possible ways, self-activity and positive participation, and a seeker of information. Using A set of scientific activities and processes. Therefore, it has become part of my teaching philosophy that students play a prominent role in every lecture through discussion, meaningful dialogue, feedback, presentations, research discussions, and more.
- Refining students' personalities, encouraging them to think creatively, develop decision-making skills, and work as a team in projects and research. They also benefit the community with the skills and methods they have learned to solve problems in both community and professional life. They also care for people with disabilities, unleashing their potential, and support those with low levels of achievement. They also provide academic guidance.
- My philosophy in teaching Sharia courses is to ensure that Sharia knowledge is intertwined with other disciplines, regardless of their scope. This stems from my belief in the integration of Islamic law into all aspects of life, at all times and in all places. I strive to instill the principles of Islamic law, adhere to the Book of God, and highlight our Islamic identity, including the tolerance of Islam and the simplicity of its faith.
